LILI ALESSANDRA

Rest your head on luxurious clouds of beautiful whimsy

The new decorative pillow collection from Lili Alessandra — in keeping with the brand's knack for stylishly outfitting a bedroom by way of plush draperies, throws and headboards — consists of looks ranging from old world baroque to modern naturalistic. The covet-worthy twills and trends feature natural linen and velvet castings with exquisite detail work like basket-weave ribbons, sequined swirl effects and beaded appliqué. Prices range from $220 to $375. The company is based in Texas, and the line is carried at Shabby Slips (1141 W. Sixth St. 478-5000, www.shabbyslipsastn.com).

Furniture fit for people and the Earth

Keeping in step with the ever-growing interest in green design, local designer Laura Britt has recently launched a fully sustainable furniture line dubbed Vervano (www.vervano.com). This collection of clean-lined, modern pieces, ranging from slipper chairs to settees, allows for stand-alone separates or functional groupings. From the selection of natural renewable fibers such as wool and bamboo to the low-VOC sealants and harvested wood base, this inventive collection is made with longevity and sustainability in mind. The Vervano collection ranges in price from $500 to $5,000. Available exclusively through Laura Britt Design (911 W. 29th St. 458-0963, www.laurabrittdesign.com).

Glas Italia collection offers clear choice for fun, functional home pieces

Give a glass tabletop an avant-garde angle with personality-plus stems like those found on the Post Modern collection from Glas Italia. The ornate table legs are made with molded and shaped borosilicate glass, and the table tops are fashioned from tempered glass. These contemporary conversation pieces are available in round, square and rectangular dining and coffee table versions. Prices range from $4,000 to $8,000. Available at Threshold Furniture and Design Studio (801 W. Fifth St., No. 100, 476-0014, www.thresholdfurniture.com).

L'Objet

Dishes that look good enough to eat on

A nod to Greco-Roman antiquities, the Aegean Gold dinnerware from L'Objet is a feast for the eyes. Each piece is a base of white Limoges porcelain that is hand-glazed with three layers of rimmed, scalloped scales in 24k gold. Hand-crafted in Portugal, these bold patterns are perfect for dinner party décor or display. Five-piece settings include dinner, dessert, bread/butter, mug and saucer, $834. Individual pieces range in price from $60 for the mug to $350 for a charger. Also offered in white on white. Available at Feather Your Nest (3500 Jefferson St., No. 120, 206-3655, www.featheryournesthome.com).
